Interior

Karayi construction we not only execute exteriors, we also offer comprehensive interior design service, where by clients work directly with our in-house team to create a personalised scheme that mirrors the splendor of the exterior architecture, reveling the full potential of each new home.

Drawing or drafting, is the most crucial tool for interior design. Before we execute a plan a through survey is carried out of the space, it starts with measuring called a measured survey. The initial survey gives us an opportunity to understand the space and then we commence working on different ideas, which are converted into 2D and 3D images. Once the client is satisfied with the design, we as a team of experts work to bring this to reality.

Karayi construction has a dedicated skilled team who has over the years delivered par excellence service in the interior projects. We undertake projects as individual as you are. By getting to know you, we can apply a personal touch to our custom designs to produce a living space that reflects your tastes and supports your life style.
